FRIDAY, JULY 2, 1937

Fourth Must Be Safe And Sane Here

Federal, County And Local Authorities Announce Fireworks Ban

A safe and sane fourth is the slogan of the Sierra Madre police and fire departments and county and U. S. Forestry departments this weekend. And they mean it.

Fireworks have been placed under a strict ban and violators will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law, Police Chief McMillan and Fire Chief Richards warned yesterday, as the city prepared to celebrate the coming Independence Day weekend.

The police force will be augmented so that officers will be on instant call Saturday, Sunday and Monday. There will be regular patrols throughout the city all three days, and in addition Uncle Sam's forestry department will see to it that a patrolman is constantly on duty.

Nearly all business houses will be closed Monday, of course, and while there will be no special celebrations locally, Sierra Madreans who don't want to let the Fourth go by without some sort of pyrotechnical entertainment will find several fireworks shows on tap this weekend in nearby cities.

Pasadena firemen are staging their 13th annual Rose Bowl fireworks show and four ring-circus next Monday evening, with entertainment ranging from a dog and pony show to the largest series of fireworks set pieces ever shown in the Pasadena oval. Some of the shells and set pieces that will be part of the celebration are said never before to have been seen in the United States.

Over in Los Angeles, the great annual American Legion fireworks pageant is to be held in the Coliseum next Sunday and Monday evenings.

United Effort Of All City Police Is Proposed

Establishment of a unified police and emergency radio system for all cities and communities of Los Angeles County has been proposed by the board of Supervisors and the county's bureau of budget and research today to check the possibilities of connection all of the present police radio systems with that of the county.

It is not expected that the proposed unified radio system can become operative before late in 1938.

Advocate Of World Peace To Speak At Local Church

Rev. E. Guy Talbott, secretary of the national council for the prevention of war, will speak Sunday morning at a July Fourth patriotic service at the Congregational church.

Dr. Talbott, an intimate student of world affairs, has been a speaker here each summer for a number of years.

Commencing the summer schedule, the service, which will include special choir numbers, will begin at 10 a.m., instead of at the former time of 11 a.m. The Sunday school will meet at the same hour and the upper divisions will remain through the service. The lower divisions will retire after the children's sermon and during the last half-hour will conduct their own class work.

Services will be held at 10 a.m. through the summer.

Going Swimming? Listen To This---

Predicting that there will probably be more swimmers in the water on the Fourth of July than on any other day of the summer, Dr. Robert A. Fraser, medical director of the nation's largest life insurance companies, offers three simple rules which should go far in preventing the large number of swimming accidents which occur every year during the summer months.

Dr. Fraser has been making a special study of hot weather accidents and disabilities. "If everyone," he says, "will remember the following three rules many lives will be spared and much sorrow avoided: First, never go swimming alone; second, keep out of the water for at least one full hour after a meal; third, never dive into water until you are sure of its depth."

"They are just common sense rules," Dr. Fraser said, "yet failure to observe them probably accounted for the great majority of the 5,500 swimming fatalities estimated by the National Safety Council for the year 1935."

"Many people are drowned every year because they insist on going swimming alone and are powerless to help themselves when seized with a cramp or faced with some other sudden emergency."

Bigger, Finer Cars In Service Now On Local Line

Following inquiries by the Chamber of Commerce relative to the Pacific Electric's promise to discontinue the remaining 800-type cars in its through service, the remodeled 1000-type cars this week were placed in exclusive use in the through service on the railway company's Los Angeles-Sierra Madre line.

It is hoped that the new cars, which are faster, roomier and quieter, will provide commuters with transportation service comparable to that offered all the larger suburban cities in the Southern area.

From now on the 800-type cars will be used only in the stub service, running between here and the Huntington Drive junction in San Marino.

Relief Costs To Boost Tax Rate

Faced with an ever-increasing county tax rate for relief, which this year, according to Supervisor H. C. Legg, will be more than half of the regular county rate, the board of supervisors is planning a strong protest to federal authorities at Washington against inequality of the federal government's relief program under which California is forced to share a heavier unemployment cost "than any other state in the union."

The heavy relief load they have been forced to carry in recent years has almost exhausted the patience and finances of the supervisors, who are determined to go to the bottom of the present system in a desperate effort to save county taxpayers from going to the wall.

At the same time the supervisors are urging Governor Merriam to ask that the federal government again assume full responsibility for transient unemployed and transient alien unemployed in California.

Vigorous Protest Against Higher County Expense

When the board of Supervisors proposes a boost of nearly three million dollars in the county's salary budget in the face of a tax on real estate '40 to 47 cents higher than that prevailing during the period of the county's greatest prosperity," it is high time the taxpayers objected.

This is the opinion of J. F. Campbell, of the Property Owners Division of the Pasadena Realty Board, who yesterday had on record a stinging petition to County Supervisor Roger W. Jessup to reject the proposed budget increase.

"It is currently reported that approximately 15 per cent of the population of the county is on some form of relief," Campbell's petition states. "While this condition exists we can see no justification for higher salary budgets."

Returned Tourists Had A Joyful 6,000 Mile Trip

Returning from a 6,000 mile trip through the middle west that took them two months, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Cuddy, of 658 Orange Drive, report a bumper wheat crop.

"Wheat is as high as a wire fence," said Mrs. Cuddy. The middle west is optimistic over its wheat and corn crops and seems to be recovering from the misfortunes of the past few years, she states.

"We drove six thousand miles without so much as a flat tire," said Mr. Cuddy. While he found good roads all the way, he thinks California has the finest highways in the country.

Many Guests At Party Of M. Penn Phillips

More than 350 persons, including many Sierra Madreans, were guests of M. Penn Phillips, 631 East Orange Grove avenue, at an old-time Spanish fiesta, held Sunday at the Palmdale Rancho, Palmdale. The affair marked the closing out of the 160-acre tract, which Phillips marketed in less than six weeks.

Succulent and tempting barbecued beef prepared by Chef Jack Deivler, was served the crowd. The Legion-sponsored Monrovia children's band furnished music, and games, presided over by Pat West, Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce, were enjoyed by all.

Merchants Play Two Games Next Week

The Sierra Madre Merchants baseball team plays two games here next week, meeting the Monrovia All Stars on the school lot Tuesday night and a strong Los Angeles club Friday night.

Myers Signs As Player In The East

Talented Young Home-towner To Appear In Cast At Noted Playhouse

Selwyn Myers, actor-son of City Manager and Mrs. Al S. Myers has signed a full-fledged professional contract with the Phidela Rice Playhouse at Martha's Vineyard, Mass., and will play in the regular "legit" productions of the Eastern little theatre rather than attend the theatre's summer school classes.

This was the back-stage report at the Pasadena Community Playhouse yesterday as young Myers, in company with Eugenia Ong, "contact" woman for the Martha's Vineyard playhouse, was well on his way to the Atlantic Coast town, after leaving here by motor Saturday.

Myers, who originally won a scholarship at the well-known Massachusetts theatre's summer school, was signed for a two-months' professional engagement by Miss Ong, who spends her winters "scouting" talent at Gilmore Brown's Pasadena theatre. She is reported to have declared that Myers, who has appeared in many outstanding roles at the Crown City playhouse and last spring did the juvenile lead in the Ramona outdoor pageant at Hemet, is one of the most promising personalities ever to be graduated from the nearby city's theatre-school.

Myers this summer won't be surrounded entirely by strangers, as several young Pasadena thespians, who studied and appeared in shows with Myers in Pasadena, will also play at the Martha's Vineyard Theatre.

Legion Post Opens Fireworks Stand On Foothill Blvd.

Sierra Madre's Legion Post No. 297 has opened a "safe and sane" fireworks stand on Foothill Blvd., just west of Michillinda Blvd., where all the "approved" varieties of noisemakers and night pieces are available at the lowest prices anywhere.

The gaily decorated stand, which will be brilliantly illuminated at night, is a 100 per cent home-town enterprise and is under the direction of Legionnaire Russell Lovejoy.

"For safe and sane fireworks of all kinds, Sierra Madreans will find the Legion stand is unbeatable," Lovejoy announces.

No Hit Game Ends Locals Win Streak

Merchants Bow To L. A. Team 3-1 After Nine Victories In Row

Sierra Madre's winning string on nine was snapped Wednesday night when a slow ball pitcher named Shockley turned in a no hit ball game paving the way to a 3 to 1 victory for the A-1 Auto club of Los Angeles.

The game was one of the best of the season and errors figured in the scoring of all runs. Shockley pitched a gem.

Packing House Here Is Distributing Fruit Again

With the Los Angeles distributing plant of the California Fruit Growers Exchange closed by a strikers' picket line, the Sierra Madre-Lamanda Park packing house, in common with the exchange's packing houses throughout the valley, has resumed the old method of packing loose or third-grade fruit, as was done in former years before the distributing plant was set up in Los Angeles, City Treasurer Carlton J. Pegler, a director of the local packing house, pointed out yesterday.

Tying up of the Los Angeles plant by less than 25 union employees has had no effect on the picking and packing operations at the packing house in Lamanda Park, Pegler said.

Little if any of the first and second grade fruit goes in to the distributing plant in Los Angeles, which was organized a few years ago to handle distribution of loose or third grade fruit.

Seek Injunction To Prevent Opening Of Cocktail Lounge

Claiming that a lease she holds and which has yet more than two years to run, gives her the exclusive right to dispense food in the Sierra Madre Hotel, Mrs. Deborah Preston, operator of a coffee shop at the hotel building, has applied for an injunction to restrain owners of the property from opening and operating a cocktail lounge and restaurant in the east wing of the hotel.

Most Heinous Crime Told By Coroner

Nance Tells Kiwanis Of The Slaughter Of Inglewood Innocents

The "most horrible" crime to come under his observation in all his 16 years service as county coroner was the way Frank Nance described the "babes-in-the-wood" murder of three Inglewood school-girls last weekend, in a talk before Kiwanians here Tuesday noon.

Picturing the graphic details of the police investigation of the triple sex-slaying, Coroner Nance said that the girls apparently had been murdered lying face-down, their killer planting his knees firmly on their backs as he choked them to death with lengths of window-sash cord. The eyes and mouths of the little victims, who were found lying on their stomachs, were filled with dirt and sand, Nance said.

Turning to a discussion of the duties and responsibilities of his office, Nance pointed out that in cases of sudden death where no physician is in attendance, the law specifies that the body reverts to the custody of the coroner who turns it over to an undertaker named by his office. The undertaker then holds the body until the case is cleared, after which the family or relatives are entitled to turn over the body to any undertaker they wish. They are not obliged to leave the body with the original undertaker, Nance emphasized, although this impression has been fostered by some undertakers.

Miss Morgridge And Fiance To Appear In Vine Recital

Miss Elizabeth Morgridge, talented Sierra Madre violinist, and her accompanist and fiance, John Harlow Mills, will appear in a joint recital at the Wistaria Gardens July 18, it was announced yesterday.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Morgridge, 19 West Orange Grove avenue, Miss Morgridge, accompanied by Mills, will third place in the young artists contest of the national federation of music clubs at Indianapolis, Ind., recently. She was the youngest in a field of more than 3500 entrants.

Details of the joint recital will be announced later.

Building Permits In June Call For Three Homes

Featured by permits for three new homes, the city building department's records for June showed a total of $14,571 worth of new construction, bringing the total for the first half of the year to $60,197.50. The figure for June, 1936, was $23,811.50.

Last month's final permit was for a house and garage, to be built at 707 North Auburn by U. A. Calvert, 1347 Elizabeth street, Pasadena. Other recent permits:

A. B. Daily, re-roof, 105 East Sierra Madre Blvd.; David Roess, re-roof, 82 Victoria Lane; J. A. Cramer, store front, 149 North Mountain Trail; M. F. Thibault, screen porch, 186 North Grove; E. D. Burbank, remodel garage, 42 East Carter.

News, Want Ad Sells All His Canaries

"You can discontinue my canary bird ad—I sold every bird I had within two days after the ad appeared," said E. N. Bonebrake of 180 Santa Anita Court. He had advertised his stock of canaries for sale. "I have used NEWS want ad eight times now," Mr. Bonebrake added, "and every time they have hit the bullseye. I got exactly the results I wanted without a single disappointment."

Boost In County Tax Rate Called For By The Budget

A headache for taxpayers is contained in the county's preliminary budget for 1937-38, which the board of supervisors adopted at an after-dinner session Wednesday night.

Exceeding last year's budget by nine million dollars, the proposed appropriations will require a boost of about 38 cents in the tax rate. As it stands now, the $54,500,000 document would necessitate a rate of $1.65 per $100 of assessed valuation, as against $1.27 last year.

Restoration of county employees' pay cuts, old age pensions, relief programs and operating costs of the General hospital account for the major increases.

Improvement May Go By The Board

Diversion Of Gas Funds Will Interfere With Plans For Paving Here

Whether motorists or taxpayers generally should foot the bill for the $13,000,000 the county board of supervisors borrowed from the state government for unemployed relief more than three years ago was still undecided yesterday, in spite of the fact that the bond act under which the county obligated itself for the huge loan stipulated that gas taxes would be used to repay the debt.

Meanwhile the question has city officials here worried—and worried badly. If the Supervisors decide to pay off the interest and principal payments on the loan by drawing on the county's share of the state gas tax revenues, their action will curtail street and highway projects here and in every community in the county for the next ten years.

Plans for many proposed street-improvement projects would have to be drastically revised, if not junked altogether.

Officials have not determined yet whether the money to meet the county's annual installment and interest should be taken entirely from one of the four annual gas tax disbursements. On the basis of last year's gas money apportionment to the counties, the quarterly payment to Los Angeles county would be insufficient to meet the installment and the county would be left without any gas tax money for an entire quarter each year.

Back of this startling situation is a loan totaling more than $13,000,000, advanced to the county out of the state's $24,000,000 unemployment bond issue of 1933. Under the terms of the bond issue, if counties borrowing from it fail to meet their payments, the amounts due could be deducted from their apportionments of gasoline and motor vehicle license funds.

Sierra Madre's share of the county relief loan was $11,580.

According to the state controller, the amount which will be due January 1, 1938, is more than three and a half millions of dollars, representing accrued interest for approximately three years and the first of the ten annual payments on the principal.

Aged Woman Held As Dog Poisoner

Six Charges Lodged Against Well Known Resident Of Canyon Area

Mrs. Myrtle R. Bradford, 72-year-old woman charged with the killing of four dogs in the Canyon Park district, was at liberty yesterday under $1000 bail after a one-night stay in the county jail, following her arraignment before Judge William E. Fox in Pasadena late Monday afternoon on four counts of dog poisoning and two counts of exposing poisoned food. Together the charges carry a maximum sentence of $3000 fine and three years imprisonment.

Bail was raised Tuesday afternoon by the woman's brother-in-law, Ernest T. Bell, of Long Beach.

When arraigned Monday, Mrs. Bradford pleaded "not guilty" to all six counts. Waiving jury trial, she will be tried before Judge Fox July 8.

Arrest of the frail septuagenarian shortly after noon Monday, on charges filed by Chief of Police G. G. McMillan and State Humane Officer C. Jerry Jones of the Arcadia Humane Society, climaxed more than half a year of relentless investigation of over a dozen dog poisonings in the Canyon Park district.

Walnuts and meat containing strychnine, together with a Long Beach druggist's record book, will figure prominently in the evidence which the two officers will bring into court next Thursday.

"As far as the evidence goes, we have a very complete case," Chief McMillan said yesterday. The chief highly commended Officer Jones who was instrumental in helping "break" the case which has been a nightmare to Canyon Park residents for more than six months.

The poisoned walnuts and meat which were examined by Rudolph Hartman and declared to contain strychnine, were picked up by Officer Jones in Mrs. Bradford's yard at 725 Woodland Drive.

While stoutly denying the charges of dog poisoning and exposing poisoned food, Mrs. Bradford admitted buying an eighth of an ounce of strychnine at a Long Beach drug store on May 12, police announced.

Specifically, the woman is charged with poisoning dogs owned by P. B. Linville, 814 Woodland Drive; Mrs. Evelyn T. Braden, 724 Woodland Drive; Mrs. G. Sanders, 48 Vista Circle Drive, and Miss Laura Cadmus, 601 Woodland Drive. The Linville dog was poisoned last May 30 and the other three on June 8, 13 and 25 respectively.

The remaining two counts accuse her of exposing poisoned meat and nuts on June 25.

Precipitating Mrs. Bradford's arrest was the discovery of a poisoned dog and squirrel in the yard of N. H. Polgreen, 643 Woodland Drive, Monday morning. Polgreen is the father of three small children. Police were afraid the youngsters, as well as other boys and girls in the district, would be menaced by the poisoner's activities.

Mrs. Bradford, who is declared to be suffering from a serious ailment, has lived in Canyon Park for several years. She has relatives in Long Beach, and it was in the beach city that police ran down one of their most important clues.

On June 14 Officer Jones reported an Oldsmobile sedan parked in front of Mrs. Bradford's house. He was told by neighbors that the car had been seen there frequently on Mondays. A checkup by police revealed that the car was registered from a Long Beach address.

Checking drug stores in Long Beach the following day, Chief McMillan and Officer Jones found an entry on the poison register of a drug store at Third and Pine streets, showing that on May 12 an eighth of an ounce of strychnine had been purchased and signed for by "Mrs. B. I. Bradford." In the column provided for the address Mrs. Bradford had written the number "725," then crossed it out and alongside it wrote "1124 Linden avenue, Long Beach." The crossed out number, police immediately noted, was the number of Mrs. Bradford's home here.

The two officers next went to the Linden avenue address. Parked in front of the house was the Oldsmobile sedan.

On June 16 the two officers, in company with Louis Ziegler, police photographer, returned to the beach city drug store where Ziegler photographed the page of the register on which the signature "Mrs. B. I. Bradford" appeared. The photograph was then taken to the registrar of voters office in Los Angeles and compared with the signature of "Mrs. Myrtle R. Bradford" on her affidavit of registration.

The two signatures seemed to be written by one and the same person, the police report states.

Evidence presented to the district attorney's office by Chief McMillan when he obtained the complaint, included Ziegler's photostatic copy of Mrs. Bradford's signature.

Case And Comment

By Chas. B. Showalter

ON July 4, 1937, the United States of America will celebrate another birthday. One hundred sixty-one years ago, "our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal."

That infant republic, now grown to maturity, by its progress and its achievements, commands the attention and the admiration of the whole world. And by its resources and its strength likewise commands the world's respect. From thirteen little colonies on the Atlantic seaboard we have grown to 48 sovereign states occupying the breadth of a continent, and have overflowed to the islands of the seas. And from a thinly scattered population in the settlements on the Atlantic coast we have grown to a population of over 130,000,000 enlightened people.

Out of the courage, the industry, the resourcefulness, the initiative of a people has grown a great Nation, perhaps the greatest nation of all the earth. Certainly no other nation, nor no other people have been so conspicuously favored by Providence. And the sum total of American achievement is the result of the vision, the courage, the integrity of individuals, and not from any modern theory of regimentation.

America has been blessed in her limitless resources, her mines, her mills, her factories, her institutions of learning, her institutions of benevolence, her altruism, and in the character and temper of her citizenship. But she has been supremely blessed by the system of government she chose for herself on July 4, 1776.

The Declaration of Independence, the greatest political document ever penned by man, was a most unique and unusual departure from the then commonly accepted theory and practice of government. It hinges on two points—the liberty of the individual, and governments must derive their just powers from the consent of the governed.

Anglo-Saxons had been fighting for those principles since the thirteenth century, and on July 4, 1776 a small band of dauntless souls on these shores declared them an accomplished fact, and in support of that declaration they pledged their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor. They proposed and declared to all the world that as free men they would govern themselves, and in a later immortal document, the Constitution of the United States, they secured the blessings of liberty to their posterity.

Their action destroyed forever the "divine right of kings." Despotism, tyranny, political oppression, should have no place in this fair land. They declared, in tones that made tyrants tremble, that no man was wise enough, nor good enough, nor strong enough to govern them. They would govern themselves, and did.

They did not do all this without some risk to themselves. If they had failed, they would all have been hanged for treason to the British Crown. As John Hancock remarked when he signed the Declaration—"Gentlemen, we must all hang together, or assuredly we shall hang separately."

The result of their action is history which all may read. Most regrettable it is, however, that many of our citizens do not read in conjunction with contemporary history.

Briefly, the concrete results are these—The best government ever devised by men. The freest people on earth. The greatest spiritual and material progress since the foundation of the world. The most widespread distribution of the good things of life. The richest rewards for individual effort, for industry, for integrity. The highest standard of living ever achieved by any people. A social order and an economic

New Restrictions Favorite Legislative Pastime

By RALPH H. TAYLOR

(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the fourth in a series of articles by Ralph H. Taylor, reviewing the state legislature session just ended.)

EXPERTS in child psychology for some years past, have cautioned against excessive use of the command, "Don't," in the rearing of children—the theory being that "Do" invites cooperation, but that "Don't" invites repetition, merely impresses the child with the irascibility of his parents.

The State Legislature, however, apparently places little faith in the teachings of child psychologists, for it says "Don't" to the children of the state with increasing frequency every two years. And even when it says "Do," it often means "Don't," according to the interpretation placed on new acts by the barristers.

At any rate, here are a few of the "Don'ts" handed down by the 1937 sessions:

If you're an optometrist, don't advertise free eye examinations, or fixed prices for lenses and services. (This act, however, may be held up on referendum, if signed.)

If you're a merchant, don't attempt to sell products manufactured in other states by child labor.

If you're a minor, don't try to fool the bartender and buy a drink. The new law makes the purchaser equally guilty with the seller.

If you're an embryo lawyer, under the age of 25, don't try to take the state bar examination until you've had two years of college. You can't!

If you're a politician, don't try to name more than your party central committee. The new law says it must be a 50-50 proposition, with women having equal representation with men.

If you're a local peace officer, don't think you can wink at liquor law violations. The new liquor control act makes local officers equally responsible with the State Board of Equalization for enforcement.

If you're a money lender, don't charge more than 2 per cent per month on loans up to $500, or more than 1 per cent on greater amounts. If you do, you'll be subject to prosecution as a "loan shark."

If you're a bail bond broker, don't try to solicit business in the jail, courthouse, or any other public building.

If you're a striker, you can walk-out, but don't "sit-down!" There are several new statutes making it a trespass.

If you're a landowner, don't post your property as a state or federal game refuge, unless it actually is. There's a law against it.

If you're a soda fountain clerk, don't sell milk except in original bottles.

If you're an attorney, don't indulge in ambulance-chasing. The solicitation of business from injured persons, or the heirs of persons killed in accidents, isn't legal.

If you're a voter, don't think you have to vote for a long list of presidential delegates. You don't. You can now vote for the candidate of your choice.

If you're an employer, don't think you are exempt from the state unemployment insurance act merely because you have only a few workers. Employers of four or more (instead of eight or more) now come under the law; farmers, however are still exempt.

structure in which the lowest born may aspire to and win the highest station. A society in which the worker of today may, and frequently does, become the employer of tomorrow. A society in which there is no cast nor class. This, and this alone, is the land of the free, and the land of golden opportunity for all. So much so that the oppressed and downtrodden of all the earth have looked upon us with longing eyes as unto the Promised Land. We have, indeed, a glorious heritage, but with it we have inherited grave and heavy responsibility.

First, we must preserve and pass on, all these blessings of liberty to future generations of Americans. Second, in a world of tumult and disorder, where demonic forces seek the enslavement of peoples to destroy them, it is our sacred obligation to hold aloft the torch of liberty that we may perchance guide some of them to a safe anchorage in a haven of rest.

We must not fail! To do so would mean the loss of all that humanity holds most dear. And yet we are bound to fail, and fail most ignominiously, if we yield for a moment, or submit to the forces now within our borders, that seek to destroy us.

If the Socialist-Communist threat, represented at present by the C. I. O., aided and abetted by the administration in power, is not halted now, sternly, with finality, America will become a shambles compared with which the Spanish Civil War is a pink tea.

Any one who can read history, and look understandingly on what is going on in our country today, must recognize the counterpart of what preceded the French revolution and the Russian Revolution.

There are those in our midst who are planning and preparing to see to it, that this is the last birthday of the Republic. God forbid!

Gaddin' Around

with BILL PEET

TIME was when Sierra Madre was cluttered up with hikers. You could tell them by the way they were garbed. They appeared early Saturday or very early Sunday mornings and all looked towards the mother mountain and headed in that direction. Today one does not see many hikers and the question has been asked "Why?"

I am told that folks prefer a combination auto ride and a hike thrown in for good measure, and that instead of starting from Sierra Madre the hikers motor to Red Box, park the family bus and then get down to the business of walking.

Sombody has checked on this, a newspaper man in Los Angeles so informed me, and here is what he says: "Hikers in autos leave Foothill Boulevard in La Canada, take the Angeles Crest highway and drive to Red Box on the Arroyo Seco-West Fork divide, the junction of the roads to Mt. Wilson, Opid's Camp and Barley Flats. They park the cars here, hike south by trail and forest road, one mile, to a trail turning right and leading around the ridge running west of Mt. Disappointment, one-half mile and west along this ridge to a dry lake bed almost on top of the mountain, one mile. Carry water. The round trip is about five miles.

There are, of course, other trails from Red Box and just as interesting especially at this time of the year, for many beautiful flowers are yet to be seen along the mountain roads and trails and in the higher canyons there are still many fine yuccas.

This may or may not explain why hikers in Sierra Madre these days are few compared to former years. I would not know.

Pat West's job of booking and staging a benefit vaudeville show for Sierra Madre is indeed a tough one. He puts himself right on the spot, squarely behind the eight ball.

Several Hollywood screen luminaries and others who promised West they would appear for the benefit Saturday night failed to show. Most of them were working and could not get away and Pat was left holding the bag. At that the show was interesting and the Children's Home will receive some monetary benefit.

Back to the gay nineties when bicycles were in vogue. I'll bet Messers Rikeman, Sadier and Pettitt, local merchants, will remember that era. The bike is coming back, so we are told, and the demand is brisk, indicating that messenger boys will have company. When Henry Ford started to make automobiles the bicycle market was shot full of holes, and has never recovered.

A lover of flowers tells me that the old theory that flowers planted in Southern California at this time of year cannot be successfully raised has been disproved. All that is needed is a little extra care. As a matter of fact any intelligent person can raise flowers successfully at any time of the year if the plants are given the proper care.

A watermelon is described as "just a big berry"—so when a young lady wearing slacks stepped up to Mister Penn in his Baldwin avenue store and said, "I wish to buy a 20 pound berry—it must be ripe," Penn scratched his head and replied, "Are you kidding me or has the heat got you?"

TOWN PICKUPS

Only two "Musketeers" parked themselves under the pepper tree at the trolley station Sunday. Herr Rudolph led the singing, using his pipe as a baton. "Does anybody know why J. Milton Steinberger parts his name in the middle? ... Every time I make an official call upon Harold Roberts I learn that he has opened up a new market somewhere. That he is soon to hear will come from property owners who did not believe in signs, failed to clear their vacant property of weeds and received a bill from the city for services rendered. ... You can bank on Waverly Pratt, new chairman of Sierra Madre's Float committee, putting the job over in big league style. He's got plenty of stuff on that fast ball and anything he undertakes he does well. The only ball club to beat the Sierra Madre Merchants on their home grounds this season is the Monrovia Gas Co. team. Why not book 'em here for another game?"

Speaking of sports, local followers of the art of modified murder picked Joe Louis to win easily from Jim Braddock. ... And already moving pictures of the fight have been running for a week. ... Jim Heasley reports that the hometowners have started to cool off in the Canyon pool. ... Here's a chance for someone with literary ability to grab off 25 smackers, (real money) by writing a one-act play for the Wistaria Association. ... Did you ever ride on one of those "Toonerville trolleys" in Pasadena with one operative who sings out the names of the streets instead of barking? ... Selwyn Myers is now in Massachusetts ready to start work in stock plays at Marthas Vineyard. We all wish him a lot of luck.

ADIOS—See you in church Sunday.

One thousand persons will lose their lives in Los Angeles county traffic accidents this year, if the death rate for the entire year continues unabated for the next six months, according to the Public Safety Council.

Plain bad manners cause many automobile accidents and a little ordinary courtesy would help cut down the death and injury toll, in the opinion of Dr. Frederic P. Woellner, associate professor of education at the University of California at Los Angeles and a member of one of the accident

The... Watch Tower

By Perley Poore Sheehan

WE'D never thought such an awful lot of Tagore—Rabindranath. Chiefly, perhaps, because of his photographs—so much hair, such doleful eyes, so utterly utter; the professional prophet, what! Besides in duty bound we'd explored his writings considerably. That was away back at the time he got the Nobel prize. From Tagore to Sinclair ("Red") Lewis. Ye gods! But a friend left a couple of Tagore books with us the other day—one called "Fireflies" and the other, "The Religion of Man."

WELL, as for "The Religion of Man," honestly now, we think that the whole thing has been said infinitely better in the New Testament—even in just bits of the New Testament—and the Old one also; many bits, hundreds of them. This is not a disparagement. The point is that precisely everything that Tagore is saying, or trying to say, has been better said in our own familiar Book—Love, Sacrifice, the Lord Within, the solidarity of mankind—in the way St. Paul put it: "... every one members one of another." No, we don't have to go to the Hindus; except, say, as we go to the Greeks. For culture? Sure! Religion? Nix.

THE "Fireflies" book was a book of poems. We suppose they were poems. Just a line or two, printed separately on each page, with an elaborate decoration—the latter, incidentally, by a Russian, Boris Artzybasheff (sounds synthetic, doesn't it?), but done in a Hindu manner. We liked some of these little poems. Some, we thought, were regular gems. Like this, for example: "The tree bears its thousand years as one large majestic moment." Or this: "Trees are the earth's endless effort to speak to the listening heaven." But why just one sentence to the page? Cut out the hokey and we'd love Tagore.

AS all of us, we're sure, love thousands and thousands of others whose names we don't even know. Just for instance. The other day at the Library we pulled down an old book called "The World's Best-Loved Poems." And came on this: "... or, in joyful wing, cleaving the sky, sun, moon and stars forgot, upward I fly,"—you probably know the rest of it; but we'll go on: "... still all my soul shall be, Nearer, my God, to Thee, Nearer to Thee!" A lady named Sarah Flower Adams wrote that. We'd forgotten. And don't you love her?

AND how about Henry F. Lyte? Ever hear of him? He wrote a poem once called "Abide With Me." Like that "O Little Town of Bethlehem," written by Phillips Brooks—who, by the way, wrote many, many other things which really should make him one of the most-read and best-loved authors to this very day. Take some of the other first-line titles in this old book: "In Flanders Fields." "The Hand that Rocks the Cradle is the Hand that Rules the World." "Oh, Why Should the Spirit of Mortal be Proud?"—this last a favorite of President Lincoln's. Written by one William Knox. And so on.

WHAT we mean is: That this world about us is saturated with splendor. Sure, now, after all, the spirit of mortal should be proud. As for that, we built the Pyramids, we wrote Shakespeare, we were Isaiah—the two Isaiahs; we were Zoroaster, Buddha, Mohammed; we were, and are—all of the line of David. And in this little town of Sierra Madre there is all the splendor—day by day and night by night—that shone over the little town of Bethlehem. For those who see.

A H, well. Then, by the same token, of course, we're also Tagore and Tagore is us. Also Franco, in Spain. Also Hitler. Also Mussolini. We were talking about this to a wise old friend of ours the other day. And what she said was something to this effect: That even now, even if war broke out in Europe, and spread the wide world over, involving us, still God would be behind it all—it would still be in accord with God's great plan. For man's unfoldment. God being all in all. The mortal world crucified. Perhaps. But, if so, a world also certain of a glorious resurrection.

prevention boards of the state. A curious paradox bobs up in the day's news regarding the baby business. Although the nation's birth rate has declined materially during the last two decades, the market for baby products, from diapers to strained vegetables, is increasing by leaps and bounds. Whether babies suddenly acquired collective bargaining, or whether they staged an unreported sit-down strike, is not disclosed. Babies have a way about them; they usually get what they want when they want it. Anyway, they're being babied—and that, we surmise, is just as it should be.

"Alcatraz is awful—they never give a guy a break." These are the words of the latest prisoner released from that fortress-like Federal prison on a little island just inside the Golden Gate. The story he told to the press the other day was a tale of woe indeed. Some how, the tendency of some people to feel sorry for this man and others behind those impenetrable gray stone walls is a little difficult to understand. There are plenty of people who find that even an honest life is tough and is not altogether overflowing with good "breaks"— people who have not murdered or swindled someone.

So long as prisoners leave the island penitentiary feeling they would not soon like to be back, and so long as the underworld fears it, Alcatraz will be accomplishing its purpose.

This one actually tastes better BECAUSE COOKED WITH GAS

Those trout might have been twins, they looked so much alike! Yet there was an actual difference in their flavor when cooked, because only one of them was broiled on a gas range. Startling perhaps, but true. Only gas, among practical fuels, provides genuine broiling.

Here's the reason. It takes live heat to broil properly. Furthermore, it takes heat that is instantly adjustable, not merely to moderate or low, but to any of the degrees between. This heat must be constant and uniform. Natural gas alone meets all these requirements!

Eat more broiled foods—they taste better, are more healthful. And for other forms of cooking, too, the new gas ranges are without equal. See them at your dealer's or your gas company.

FORMER RESIDENT VISIT OLD FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gresham of Monterey, accompanied by their son Frederick and daughter Barbara, were in Sierra Madre the other day looking up old friends. They are former residents of Sierra Madre. Mrs. Gresham was the former Jennie Lambert.

Mr. Gresham is the son of the late Dr. Fred Gresham, pioneer doctor of Sierra Madre, who came here in 1885. He was one of the founders of the local library.

FIRE FLAMES

By One of The Boys

THE trucks were driven to the Sierra Madre Canyon for the regular fire drill on Friday. The district was studied for possible fire and how to combat it. Since the installation of fire plugs that have lots of water and good pressure in this territory, there is much less anxiety among the residents. The water pressure here is exceptionally high.

A majority of the members were at the cemetery last Sunday cleaning up some of the old weeds and brush. Harry Lange has set out to keep the cemetery in a better appearing condition than it has been in the past years. With a little co-operation and encouragement, Harry will succeed and we hope he does. It was not such a pleasant thought to have so many friends from outside the city attend the funeral of our beloved brother fireman and see the manner in which our cemetery has been cared for.

Just because the weather appeared warm, a few of the firemen attended the meeting donned in their summer shirts. This was against the rules, so the "kitty" was sweetened by several fines. The date for the change has always been a riddle to most of us.

Penalties In Store For Delinquent Tax Statements

The 1937 tax assessment period closes in Los Angeles county tomorrow, following the largest task the county assessor's office has had in compiling the new assessment roll since 1929. Anyone who has not filed a property return by tomorrow evening will be heavily penalized. The extra work has been occasioned by the large number of new buildings to be valued for the first time and to the revaluation of citrus properties because of last winter's serious frost damage. Ex-service men who have neglected to qualify for their $1000 property exemption will forfeit this privilege unless it is exercised today or tomorrow.

"Results of extensive tests conducted by the contest Board of the American Automobile Association on the nine non-premium gasolines leading in sales volume in the Pacific Coast area substantiate the statement of the Standard Oil Company of California that Standard Gasoline is Unsurpassed."

Old Age Pension Cases Jump Over 50 Per Cent

A fifty per-cent increase in the number of old age pension cases in Los Angeles County for 1937 has been predicted by charity officials in an estimate submitted to Supervisor H. C. Legg.

The average number of aged persons receiving state, county and federal aid for the year closing June 30 will be 23,801. The report predicts there will be 40,000 cases by June 1938.

This jump in old age cases will cause an additional increase of $4,776,000 in the charity budget to take care of them, the estimate said.

Enormous Map Of LA County Requires Years To Build

Sierra Madre is included in an enormous relief map of the county that is being constructed as a WPA project.

Every detail of the terrain of the county is included in the layout—a horizontal scale of one mile to two and one-half inches and a vertical scale of 400 feet to one inch.

The map is being built on a foundation composed of hundreds of layers of thin pieces of wood. Scroll saws are used to cut the pieces to contour. Plaster is molded by hand over the wooden sections. The map makers consult engineering data to obtain information as to the heights of hills, the depth of valleys, location of roads and other information that is being incorporated in the structure.

The work which will not be completed for more than a year, will be of great value in forest fires, soil erosion, highway routing and other problems. The project is being constructed under direction of the county forestry department and has been under way for two years.

Amos and Andy.

The Entz & Rucker nightball team of Los Angeles, members of a hardware league in that city, proved easy picking for the Sierra Madre Merchants Friday night, losing in seven innings 13 to 3. It was the ninth straight win for the locals.

The Merchants drove Dahl from the box in the second inning and hit Probst hard and often. The visitors were miserable afield, costly errors aiding the Merchants in their hunt for runs. Lorenzini, Brain and Burt led the home attack with four sackers. Kiggins yielded only four hits.

Reduction In Gas Rate To Save $35,000 In This Area

"It is estimated that the rate reduction announced this week by the California Railroad Commission, effective yesterday, will save customers of the Southern Counties Gas Company in the Eastern Division approximately $35,000 a year," according to J. M. Kennedy, district manager. "Despite the fact that household-commodity prices have been rising steadily, natural gas rates have been consistently lowered," he said, "and in fact, the cumulative reduction in this area since 1930 represents a savings to our consumers of $181,037.00 a year."

The so-called "three-use" schedule under which customers using gas for house and water heating and for cooking and whose bills were between $2 and $25 a month, were given a preferential rate is abolished under the schedule and a flat rate established.

Penalties In Store For Delinquent Tax Statements

The 1937 tax assessment period closes in Los Angeles county tomorrow, following the largest task the county assessor's office has had in compiling the new assessment roll since 1929. Anyone who has not filed a property return by tomorrow evening will be heavily penalized.

The extra work has been occasioned by the large number of new buildings to be valued for the first time and to the revaluation of citrus properties because of last winter's serious frost damage.

Ex-service men who have neglected to qualify for their $1000 property exemption will forfeit this privilege unless it is exercised today or tomorrow.

"Results of extensive tests conducted by the contest Board of the American Automobile Association on the nine non-premium gasolines leading in sales volume in the Pacific Coast area substantiate the statement of the Standard Oil Company of California that Standard Gasoline is Unsurpassed."

Same size, same kind - but

This one actually tastes better
BECAUSE COOKED WITH GAS

Those trout might have been twins, they looked so much alike! Yet there was an actual difference in their flavor when cooked, because only one of them was broiled on a gas range. Startling perhaps, but true.
Only gas, among practical fuels, provides genuine broiling.

Here's the reason. It takes live heat to broil properly. Furthermore, it takes heat that is instantly adjustable, not merely to moderate or low, but to any of the degrees between. This heat must be constant and uniform.
Natural gas alone meets all these requirements!

Eat more broiled foods — they taste better, are more healthful. And for other forms of cooking, too, the new gas ranges are without equal. See them at your dealer's or your gas company.
